

Economics and Catholic Social Teaching

Catherine Pakaluk, PhD

Assistant Professor of Economics

The Catholic University of America

This presentation will introduce briefly some of the key metrics and descriptive statistics related to poverty in the US, with a particular focus on trends in poverty post-1960, drawing upon the work of leading labor economists. The presentation will also introduce some thematic elements related to poverty from Catholic social thought.